BOY HALTS RUNAWAY HORSE BUT IS HURT

BERKELEY, July 2.—John Zimmerman, 16 years of age, is suffering from bruises as a result of stopping a runaway horse yesterday afternoon on Adelene street in South Berkeley while riding a bicycle. Zimmerman caught the horse by the bridle, but in doing so lost his bicycle, which was trampled under foot by the animal. The lad was thrown about twenty feet before he succeeded in bringing the frightened horse to a standstill. The owner of the horse paid to have the bicycle repaired, but refused to divulge his name.

J. E. CUNNINGHAM, NOT J. NOVAK, IS GUILTY OF CRIME

In Full Confession Laborer Confesses to Shooting Cashier of Gray Brothers in Dispute Over Small Check.

that he thought it was only a coward who would commit suicide.

That Gray, who was addressed as Harry by Miss Brasch, knew that Cunningham had a gun, is the statement of the murderer, and he also declared that another girl, whom he knew at Cragmont, Berkeley, and whose first name is Shirley, not only saw the weapon, but was sent away by him so that she would not by chance get within range of the shot which he intended should be for Miss Brasch alone.

Money Due, He Claims

It all came about over the old question of pay checks, and it was because Cunningham did not receive his money, which he says was due on April 27, and on the day of the shooting was put off until July 19, that the fatal bullet was fired.

Cunningham declared that he was born in North Situate, Rhode Island, twenty-seven years ago. He was of Irish parentage, and had four brothers, the whereabouts of whom he has no knowledge. His mother and father died when he was fourteen and a year later he left home and came West, stopping at St. Louis, and then returning to Cincinnati and finally to New York. He has always been a laborer, and has hoed around the country. He claims, however, to have been only arrested for misdemeanor offenses, such as sleeping in box cars and riding on freight trains.

His story of the dealings with Gray Brothers and his effort to receive his money is related as follows: "I went to work for Gray Brothers at Point Pedro on March 13 of this year, and worked for them until April 27. Although surrounded by a number of officers in the identification bureau of police headquarters, he was not the least excited, and spoke in a low tone of voice, taking time to explain every situation and referring without a tremor to the murder of Miss Brasch and the fact that it might be punishable by hanging. "I left on April 26, and at that time I had a time check for $32.25, a bank check for $7.75 and a draft for $7.75. The next day, April 27, I went to the office and saw the lady bookkeeper in the White-Bingo building. I asked her why I couldn't be paid all in check, and she said 'We don't do business that way.' She told me I could get the $7.75 check cashed by the Anglo-California-Navy and American bank, but that I would have to wait until the others came due on May 18. I had received $17 for my work in March and $2 for my work in April. The young lady told me that I ought to be satisfied with that method of payment, and that the firm didn't have to pay me for ninety days if they didn't want to. I next went to the office on May 20, two days after the check was due.

"Did you working meantime?" he asked.

Of course, it's according to how a man feels.

"Are you going to hire lawyers and fight the case?"

"I have no money to hire lawyers."

Meets Gaze Fully

The nerve displayed by Cunningham in this recital would indicate either the ignorance of the man or the fact that he was not in his right mind. Rationally as his statements appeared, the fact that he seemed to feel no sense of horror at his crime or any regret that he had shot down Miss Brasch is considered remarkable. When asked if he did not know that he might be hanged, his hands twitched slightly, but he laughed off the idea and looked up into the face of his questioner directly, without any shifting of the eyes.

In the midst of his being examined O'Malley of Knox Collection Agency, he was called forward by Detective Sergeant McGuire and Discol to be identified by F. G. Higgins, who unhesitatingly said, "That's the man," when asked if it had indeed been Cunningham, who with a smoking revolver, had run from the offices of Gray Brothers.

Days of Hiding

It was 8 o'clock this morning that Cunningham was brought into police headquarters and from that time until daybreak he was revealing to the detectives the incidents of the shooting. And yet despite his all night vigil and the ordeal of submitting to the Bertillon measurements and being photographed, he looked as trim and as alert as was possible in the coarse laboring dress, which he had not removed since the day of the shooting, having spent his time in hiding, first in the Potrero and then over toward North Beach.

When brought up from the city prison he was handcuffed to Novak, who was released at noon today, the police being confident of his innocence.

Never Saw Cunningham

"I never saw this man before in my life," Novak declared through Theodore Kytko, referring to Cunningham. He explained his anxiety at the small amount of money he received from the Knox Collection Agency by asserting that he had to have a coat and some shoes right away, and he was afraid he would not have enough left to support himself. He averred that it was probably the costume at Gray Brothers to turn people over to the Knox Collection Agency when they demand their money immediately, and he was charged $1.50 collection toll and received only $5.40 as wages.

He told a reporter that he was not afraid to be in prison—in fact, didn't mind it in the least.

"All I wanted was my pipe and some tobacco," he affirmed, "and I was happy. Of course I was a little afraid about their accusing me of killing the girl, but somehow I felt that it would come out all right."

To go to Reno

When he left the prison this morning, Novak went directly to the offices of W. D. Ewer & Co., and will try and ship to Reno tonight in accordance with the original arrangement made with the employment people.

The police department are making some complaint against Gray Brothers for not having told them of the second dispute with a laborer. It seems apparent that the conversation over the phone between Miss Brasch and Mr. Gray relative to $5.75 was the result of the call of Clerk Joseph F. O'Malley of the Knox Collection Agency.

Two Hats Will Give Clues to Burglars

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2.—Two men's hats have been turned over to the police as clues to two burglars who yesterday afternoon broke into the residence of Mrs. Barrett at 1270 McAllister street. It was 5.10 p. m. when Mrs. Barrett entered her apartments and surprised two men in the act of breaking open her trunk. She screamed for help, and the intruders, frightened into a frenzy, dived through the window, dropping from the second story to the ground, and leaving their hats behind them in their flight. Neighbors saw them racing up the street, but they were not captured. Detectives Bunker and O'Connell are working on the case.

As long as newspaper space is available, and exaggerated store announcements remain non-penalized, just so long must the public rely upon experience and good judgment in choosing the store worthy of confidence and patronage; experience has taught the majority of Oakland clothing buyers that ours is a store NOT of extravagant claims, but actual performance; deeds, not words, have been the prime factor in building here one of the finest clothing businesses in the West.

Phillip Bowles Jr. Tells of His Love for Clara Haggett

Questioned Regarding Trips to the Tenderloin With Young Woman

names were not given in the deposition. After that interrupted automobile ride, was nearly a year before Bowles met Miss Haggett again, according to his deposition. The meeting occurred in the Gas Kitchen, an Oakland restaurant.

"Did you go with her more or less regularly from that time on?" asked Attorney Ledy.

"Yes, sir."

"Did you take her to a place owned by your parents known as The Pines shortly after this last time referred to?"

"Yes, sir."

"What happened the first night you had her out there?"

The witness was prevented from answering on objections made by his attorney.

"Didn't you promise to marry the plaintiff on the second night you had her out at your mother's home, a place called 'The Pines'?"

"I did not."

Promises to Marry

"Did you ever promise to marry her?"

"Yes, sir."

"When did you first promise to marry her?"

"I can't give you the date. It was during the time I was at Cordelia."

"Do you know what year?"

"It was in 1935."

"Are you positive, Mr. Bowles, that this first promise to marry her did not occur in the year 1935?"

"I am not positive about any of the dates."

"Did you ever use the expression 'as in my right' in a letter to the plaintiff after you had made a promise to marry her?"

To this question Attorney Chickering objected.

It was brought out that the letter was dated January 2, 1936, and that there was an understanding, according to Bowles, that they were to be married, but no engagement was announced.

Bowles Sr. Uses Boat

Then it was shown that just after the earthquake Bowles erected a tent in Miss Haggett's yard and she assisted him in making some upholstered seats for a boat that he then had, for the purpose of crossing the bay when the ferries were not running.

The boat was also used by Bowles Sr., the banker.

"Did you ever express your feelings regarding the plaintiff to Mrs. Towne?" asked Attorney Ledy.

"What is her address?" questioned Chickering.

Talks About Girl

Killer replied that Mrs. Towne lived in Fruitvale.

Bowles said he didn't remember whether he had expressed his feelings or not, but that he had talked with Mrs. Towne about the girl.

Attorney Chickering objected to the witness answering.

In reply to questions, Bowles denied that he had ordered Miss Haggett to give up her position with S. N. Woods of Oakland after their engagement. Bowles stated:

"As far as being engaged, we were engaged a long time before she ever took the position. She held it for about a week and then resigned herself."

Cooks His Dinners

Further in the deposition it developed that while employed as a real estate salesman in Berkeley, Bowles, together with a man named Gassaway, partook of dinners brought to them by Miss Haggett. She did it frequently, according to Bowles.

In answer to questions, Bowles denied that he ever took Miss Haggett to the races in an automobile, but he took her to Emeryville in a machine.

However, he later admitted that they had gone to the races together, but not in an automobile.

"You were at her house frequently at that time, were you not, Mr. Bowles, and going with her frequently about that time?"

"Yes, sir."

"Did you bring her to San Francisco and go to Dunn Brothers' beer garden over here about that time?"

The defense objected.

"And on this occasion did you not open wine and throw money to the musicians?"

The defense objected.

"On one of these occasions just referred to did you not get a woman drunk and break some of the eggs that she drank with her in a basket?"

Another objection by defense.

"And didn't she make you pay for these eggs?"

The objection by the defense.

To Roadhouse

It developed that the couple had been there during the 1935-36 racing season.

"On one occasion at Dibble's didn't you give her $1000 to keep for you over night?"

"No."

"Didn't you get into a fight at Dibble's and get badly beaten up and she used part of the $1000 you had given her to buy fresh clothes?"

The witness was prevented from answering by his attorney.

"And didn't she return this $1000 the next morning?"

Objection prevents reply.

"Didn't she sit up all night with you and put antipainful on your wounds?"

Objection by defense.

Attorney Ledy then asked the witness a number of questions as to whether or not Miss Haggett had helped him to buy Christmas presents for his relatives and friends, and that Bowles told her she would have to wait for her presents because he was too hard up.

Bowles was not permitted to reply to these questions.

"In September, 1937, did you go to New York?"

"About that time."

"Did the plaintiff accompany you as far as Sacramento?"

"Yes."

"Did you send a telegram to Irene Flannery from Sacramento at the time you were on your way to New York in September, 1937?"

"Yes, sir."

To Irene Flannery

"Did you tell the plaintiff at Sacramento, while you were on your way to New York, in September, 1937, that you were sending a telegram to your mother?"

"I don't remember."

"And don't you know that she discovered that this telegram was not to your mother but to Irene Flannery?"

Objection was made to an answer.

Nice Cozy Flat, $20

"When you reached New York isn't it a fact that you wrote about six letters a day and sent many telegrams insisting that the plaintiff come to you in New York, in which your letters and telegrams explained to her what a cozy flat you could secure for $20 a month and ask her to come on and forgive you for sending the telegram to Irene Flannery?"

Attorney Chickering instructed the witness not to answer.

Bowles was then questioned about his return from New York.

"Where did you go when you first reached Oakland?" asked Attorney Ledy.

"I went to the house on Fremont avenue."

"Who lived there?"

"Miss Haggett."

Witness was then asked if he didn't start to cry and say that if he could not have Miss Haggett he did not want to live—also that he came from New York on a third rate ticket and without any money in order to see his loved one, and while he was making the journey his parents were telegraphing over the country, seeking to find him.

Trip to Seattle

Answers to these queries were refused upon the advice of Bowles' attorneys.

"Didn't you meet the plaintiff later and convince her again as to your sincerity and your intentions toward her?"

"I saw her in the house."

"What was the conversation that occurred between you and the plaintiff?"

"I don't recall the conversation."

"Didn't you at this time promise to take her to Seattle and be married to her upon your arrival in Seattle?"

"I took her to Seattle."

"Didn't you take her there under the promise that you would marry her when you arrived there?"

"I took her there because she wanted me to take her away from home."

Promises to Marry

"Did you promise to marry her at all after you arrived in Seattle? Did you promise in Oakland that you would marry her in Seattle some time soon?"

"Yes, sir."

"After you reached Seattle isn't it a fact that you pawned your camera and Clara's watch (Clara being the plaintiff) in order to get something to eat?"

"Anything that was pawned that belonged to me in Seattle was pawned by her to secure money to live on. She pawned all these articles with my consent."

After the couple left Seattle they went to Maple Valley, in the State of Washington.

It developed that while there Miss Haggett worked as a housekeeper, but Bowles denied it was for the purpose of earning money to pay his debts. He also denied that he gambled away their little horde of money.

With Secretary Metcalf

Questioned as to whether or not he had given her an umbrella, inscribed "Clara E. Bowles Jr.," Bowles was prevented from answering by his attorney.

Then he was taken to the time when he was in Washington, D. C.

He said that he lived with Secretary Metcalf at first and the rest of the time in a bachelor apartment house, while Miss Haggett lived for a time at a boarding house, and then later had a portion of a flat with a woman named Jameson.

Bowles said that he paid all her bills while she was in Washington, D. C.

"Don't you know that Clara confessed to you that she was not married to Mr. Cole and that you had an altercation with Mr. Cole regarding your manner of living with Clara and in the manner in which you treated Clara?"

To this the defense objected and Bowles was asked if he didn't know that Mr. Cole had offered Miss Haggett a home there until he (Bowles) could be compelled to marry the young woman.

He was then asked if it was not true that he had received a letter from Miss Haggett shortly after her return to Oakland, saying that she had made a full confession to her mother to the effect that she was not married to him at all and had never been married to him.

The witness was instructed not to answer.

Confesses to Mother

It was then developed that Bowles borrowed money in Washington to buy a ticket for Miss Haggett to return to Oakland to attend the funeral of her sister.

He was then asked if it was not true that he had received a letter from Miss Haggett shortly after her return to Oakland, saying that she had made a full confession to her mother to the effect that she was not married to him at all and had never been married to him.

The witness was instructed not to answer.

"I Want to Be Your Husband," So Writes Bowles Jr. to Clara Haggett

Teeming with love, the following letter was written by Philip Bowles, Jr., to Clara Haggett, and appears in the deposition given by him in San Francisco Thursday, June 17:

Dear Kit: I got your letter tonight and I am sitting down now with it in front of me and I am going to answer everything you say in it. First of all, you call me Mr. Bowles. I am not Mr. Bowles to you, and you know it. I am just your Phil, and always will be, for I will never give you to Sacramento by myself and flirt with other girls. You know that I could not do that, Kit, because I only beg of you an opportunity to prove to you that they are good and I don't want to be free. I want to be your slave, Kit, and have you direct me always. You say you are looking for work. folks want me to give you up and be in society. I don't want to be in any society but yours, and met me. You are more account to me than anything else, and it is that which makes me want you all the more. That other girl was never disappointed by me, for she has lots of other fellows and thoughts. You say I will have more money to spend on myself. My only object in having money is to give it to you. You say we can always be good friends. We never can be that, for I want to I can never be happy without you. I am awfully sorry, Kit, that I hurt your tooth, for I would not hurt you intentionally for the world. You say that after what has happened between us you can life will be devoted to making you happy, and as to the blot, it is only I can wipe that out, and I am not going to do it if it costs me my life, so help me God. Now, Kit, let's not be foolish any more. I tell me that you love me still and that you will give me one more chance, and we will walk hand in hand through the rest of our lives together. I am always yours, Kit, because I have given you the best that is in me, and I will never give you up, Kit, though you tramp me under your feet. So write me, Kit, and tell me that it is all right and that I may still call you mine, as I am your Phil.

"While you were in Washington in February and the spring of 1935 did you know a Mrs. Jameson?"

"Yes."

"Did you have a quarrel with Mrs. Jameson in Clara's presence one night?"

Objection is made to his answering.

"And didn't you say to Mrs. Jameson on that night that you were married to Clara and that you had a marriage license, and didn't she call you a 'lying cur'?"

"Didn't you then strike her in the face and strike Clara in the face?"

Objection is made to his answering.

The witness was instructed not to answer.

The witness was then questioned regarding his work as a really agent, and asked whether or not he did not cause his mother some anxiety by not turning over certain money and also as to whether or not he had received a communication from a young woman named Elizabeth Redding in Washington, D. C., asking him to return a ring which she had given him to have repaired.

The witness was instructed not to answer by his attorney.

Only His Slave

"And didn't both their faces bleed as a result of your blows?"

Another objection is made.

"Didn't Clara complain to you at this time that you didn't intend to marry her but only wanted her as your slave?"

"I have no recollection of any such conversation."

"Didn't she ever say that to you in any manner or form to you about that time?"

"She said that often."

"Don't you remember of having a quarrel with Clara because you would not perform your promise to marry her?"

Quarrels Are Many

"I know that I quarreled with her all the time."

"And didn't you say to Mr. Gassaway that you never intended to marry the girl?"

"I don't remember any such conversation."

"Don't you know that Gassaway and Clara took your gun and a great many things that belonged to you that were at her home, and Clara took them to your home and gave them to your mother and requested your mother not to let you come to see her again or to come to bother her in any way?"

Objection to Bowles' answering.

His Mother's Locket

"Among the things Clara took to your mother at that time don't you know there was a locket that you had taken from your mother and given to Clara?"

Objection was made to his answering.

Have the taking of the deposition was interrupted by an adjournment for lunch.

Upon resuming, Attorney Ledy asked:

"Didn't you speak to an intimate friend of yours, who made this reply to you: 'Phillip, even as close as we are, you can't expect me to go into court and disgrace my mother and sister by testifying to some things which we both know is false, even though I know you would give me your shirt?'"

"No."

Those Love Letters

"Did you ask Buck Hughes to testify in your behalf against this plaintiff?"

"No."

Bowles was then questioned as to whether he had asked Miss Haggett that his letters to her be returned; or to whether they had any conversation after she had determined to bring the suit for damages.

Objection was made to his answering these questions.

"Did you say anything to her during the holiday period as to what your mother had said to you of your conduct toward her?"

"I talked with her about my mother and had several conversations in which my mother was mentioned."

Denies Holdup Plot

In answer to questions Bowles denied that his parents gave him any money, to give Miss Haggett to obtain his love letters. He also denied having ever made a remark to Miss Haggett that they would "stick his father and divide the profits."

The attorneys then went into the question of presents made to Miss Haggett by Bowles. The witness acknowledged that he had a poor memory, but could recall that he gave the young woman various sums from a few dollars upwards for her to buy presents and clothing for herself.

Attorney Ledy then asked:

"Mr. Bowles, after the complaint in this action was filed, your father was reported in the newspapers as having given you $25,000 on your twenty-first birthday, which you are alleged to have spent in behalf of the girl. Did you receive any such amount from your father?"

"I won't answer that."

"Did you receive a check for $5000 on your twenty-first birthday from your father?"

The witness was instructed not to answer.

The witness was then questioned regarding his work as a really agent, and asked whether or not he did not cause his mother some anxiety by not turning over certain money and also as to whether or not he had received a communication from a young woman named Elizabeth Redding in Washington, D. C., asking him to return a ring which she had given him to have repaired.

The witness was instructed not to answer by his attorney.

Warm Love Letter

Attorney Ledy: "Did you, on July 29, 1937, write the following letter to the plaintiff?"

"Dear Kit: I got your letter tonight and I am sitting down now with it in front of me and I am going to answer everything you say in it. First of all, you call me Mr. Bowles. I am not Mr. Bowles to you, and you know it. I am just your Phil and always will be, for I will never give you to Sacramento by myself and flirt with other girls. You know that I could not do that, Kit, because I only beg of you an opportunity to prove to you that they are good and I don't want to be free. I want to be your slave, Kit, and have you direct me always. You say you are looking for work. There is no need of your working, for I am working for you and for no other reason."

"You say for me to go to Sacramento by myself and flirt with other girls. "I want to be your slave, Kit, and have you direct me always. You say you are looking for work. There is no need of your working, for I am working for you and for no other reason."

Doesn't Favor Society

"You say my folks want me to give you up and be in society. I don't want to be in any society but yours and you know it. I gave up my folks long ago for you. You say you are not much account since you met me. You are more account to me than anything else, and it is that which makes me want you all the more."

"That other girl was never disappointed by me, for she has lots of other fellows and thoughts. You say I will have more money to spend on myself. My only object in having money is to give it to you. ### Will Be Faithful

"You can be happy, Kit, because my life will be devoted to making you happy and as to the blot, it is only I can wipe that out, and I am going to do it if it costs me my life, so help me God. Now, Kit, let's not be foolish any more. I tell me that you love me still and that you will give me one more chance, and we will walk hand in hand through the rest of our lives together. I am always yours, Kit, because I have given you the best that is in me, and I will never give you up, Kit, though you tramp me under your feet. So write me, Kit, and tell me that it is all right and that I may still call you mine, as I am your Phil."

Many, Many Letters

Attorney Chickering objected to the letter as incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial, and said that if any attempt was made to read into the record all of the letters he would withdraw his witness and ask instructions of the court.

Attorney Ledy said he did not propose to read into the record all of the letters nor any large quantity of them, but did intend to frame his questions from the letters.

Bowles was then questioned on various paragraphs in the letters, but on the objection of his counsel he refused to answer.

Questioned as to whether or not he entertained Miss Haggett at the Bowles' family home while the parents were away, Bowles Jr. declined to answer upon the advice of his attorneys.

Attorney Ledy: "Did you at any time but that is all. She didn't care for two, but his memory was vague and he could not fix dates.

He said, however, that he thought he gave her all the money for the clothing she wore while going with her.

"Will you not state to us what the real cause is of your not having married the girl prior to the beginning of the action?"

Attorney Ledy then asked Bowles whether he had received any of the money left by his aunt, Mrs. Ada B. Whitney, who died at the Hotel Touraine, in Oakland, on August 29, 1935.

Attorney Chickering ordered his client not to answer.

Coming back to the promise of marriage, Attorney Ledy brought out that there was always an understanding between the two, and then asked:

"Don't you know that you told the girl that you would discuss the entire situation with the then secretary of the navy, Mr. Metcalf, and that if your father would not start you in business this time when you got home, that he would and that Mr. Metcalf gave you advice, and that Mr. Metcalf said to you that if you had taken the girl away from her home you should stand by her?"

Bowles declined to answer on the advice of counsel.

Discusses Marriage

Various questions were then asked of the witness regarding instances where he is alleged to have discussed marriage with Miss Haggett, and at the same time, Bowles volunteered the information that Miss Haggett had publicly announced, when angry, and to anybody that happened to be there, "I am not married to you and you have nothing to say about it."

Attorney Ledy went into the question of clothing bought by Bowles for Miss Haggett. The witness remembered buying dress goods and a tailored suit or

FATHER CUTS HIS CHILD'S THROAT

Then Slashes His Own Neck With Same Razor, After Threats

SANTA CRUZ, July 2.—Dan Feldman, a Glenshaw employed as a tunnel worker at Glenshaw, cut the throat of his 14-month-old child for fear to ear and then out his own throat.

The fellow has made boasts to workmen that he would do away with his entire family.

With a Slavonian he was at McElmer's saloon in the afternoon, when they had a couple of beers and sandwiches and about 2 o'clock left with three bottles of beer.

About 5:30 Feldman went to his cottage where his wife was lying in a hammock on the front porch of her home with her 14-month-old baby in her arms, with the two other children in the yard.

He took the child from the mother's arms, fondled it and kissed it, and asked the wife and two children to go into the house with him. The children ran away and the wife refused.

He then went inside, slammed the door, locked it from the inside and began his bloody work.

The wife heard sounds from the inside, went to the window and looked inside and there saw the husband take a razor and cut the neck of the baby from ear to ear, so that it was almost severed from the body.

The wife, who is in delicate health, was hysterical, but people were soon summoned and Dr. Ed. Fagels found that Feldman had cut no arteries, but a portion of the windpipe was severed.

This morning the man who murdered his child was brought to town and taken to the hospital.

Hold Up and Rob Bank of $10,000

WINNIPEG, July 2.—The Bank of Nova Scotia at Rainey River, Ontario, across the river from W. Arrow, was robbed of $10,000 at noon today. Three men armed with revolvers went in and held up Manager Tempest. The robbers escaped. An armed posse is in pursuit. The cashier of the bank was shot in the leg.

DROWNS IN TRYING TO SAVE HIS CHILD

STELLA (Wash.), July 2.—Plunging into the Columbia river to save his child, little Beng was drowned before he could effect a rescue, several minutes, was discovered by Edward Howard, a fisherman, who claimed to be passing, and was brought to the shore unharmed. Beng and the lad had been on the shore, and had nearly reached their home on the return trip, when the accident occurred. After rescuing the boy, Howard recovered the father's body, but it was impossible to resuscitate him. Beng leaves a widow and four children.

POLICE PUZZLED BY WOMAN'S DEATH

Note Implies Suicide, But Wounds on Head Lend Element of Mystery

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2.—The police are somewhat mystified over the mysterious death of Mrs. Mary Davis, whose body was found at 4:40 this morning in her room in the lodging house at 1001 Harrison street. The woman, who is about 50 years old, was last seen alive at 2 o'clock this morning by Mrs. Annie Whitehead who occupies the adjacent apartment. At that time she was not feeling very well and took a glass of wine to steady her nerves.

At 6:30 this morning when Mrs. Swanson, the landlady, went to call her, she discovered that she was dead, and her face was covered with blood, which flowed from a wound on the left side of the face. She had also several bruises about the body, which, however, might have been caused by knocking against some obstruction. A pair of scissors which lay nearby would seem to have caused the two wounds, but whether it was self-inflicted or the result of an encounter with an unknown person is not certain.

Several bottles containing various medicines were found in the room and taken by Deputy Coroner Cronin to the morgue to aid in determining the exact cause of the woman's death. Strength is added to the suicide theory by a letter found on a table, a portion of which reads as follows:

"I have made up my mind to quit this life. I cannot live any longer. It is breaking me up."

Corporal Braid of the Southern Station is investigating the affair, and an autopsy will be held on the body today.

GIRL IN RAGE STABS BOY WITH PEN KNIFE

Attack Arose Over Affection of Youngster's Father for Alleged Affinity

PHILLIS IRVING CUTS FACE INTO RIBBONS

Called "Shanty Irish," Declares Child in Explaining Cause of Fight

In a fit of childish passion growing out of a quarrel over little Eugene Holtkamp's father's alleged penchant for an affinity for whom it is said he neglects his home, little 10-year-old Phillis Irvin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Irvin, and a pupil of the Convent of the Holy Names, seized a penknife and stabbed Eugene Holtkamp, a playmate, at the San Pablo apartments where both children live with their parents, yesterday afternoon.

The girl inflicted several deep gashes on the boy's face before other inmates of the house, hearing the lad's cries of pain, rushed to the scene, parting the combatants. The boy, who is the son of William Holtkamp, the tailor, was rushed to a nearby drug store, where his wounds were treated. Though painful it is not thought that his injuries will prove serious.

Alleged Affinity

According to the boy's story the Irvin girl has frequently twitted him because his mother works for a living. Yesterday before a number of children living in the neighborhood she taunted him about his father's desertion and his devotion to an alleged affinity, a Mrs. Guisberg, with whom, according to Mrs. Holtkamp, William Holtkamp has been living, at the corner of Nineteenth and Telegraph avenue, for more than a year.

Thoroughly enraged the little lad dared the girl to repeat the insult, incidentally dubbing her "Shanty Irish." Whereupon little Phillis, snatching up an open penknife lying on a table nearby, rushed at the boy and succeeded in inflicting a half dozen gashes in his face before they were separated by horrified witnesses.

"The fact is rather generally known," asserts the wife, "and my three little children whom I am left alone to support frequently come home in tears because of the taunts of their playmates. This is the first time, however, matters have assumed such a serious turn and I intend to take steps to prevent the repetition of such an outrage."

The little Irvin girl is the daughter of well-to-do parents and this morning admitted that she had frequently twitted the Holtkamp children because of their less fortunate lot.

"I didn't mean to stab Eugene at first," she said, "but he called me 'Shanty Irish' and I just couldn't help it."

Mrs. Irvin, the girl's mother, is a parishioner and a foremost worker in St. Francis de Sales church, and her father is well known in business circles here.

Father's Life Hurts Children

According to Mrs. Holtkamp her husband left her a year ago, shortly after they came to this city from the East, and has since been living with a Mrs. Guisberg who, she says, he maintains as his "soul mate."

TWO SLAIN BY TERRORIST IN LONDON

Indian Student Shoots Government Official and His Companion

MURDER DECLARED TO BE ENTIRELY POLITICAL

Prisoner Unconcerned in Court, But Declares Second Shooting Unavoidable

LONDON, July 2.—Madar Lelof Dhinagari, the Indian student, who last night shot and killed Lieutenant Colonel Sir William Kutt Curzon Wylie and Dr. Cawson Lalacca of Shanghai at a public gathering at the Imperial Institute, was arraigned in the Westminster police court this morning and remanded for one week after being formally charged with wilful murder.

In the dock the prisoner appeared quite unconcerned. He stood with his hands in his pockets and shook his head negatively when asked if he wished to say anything. Subsequently, however, he said that he had not wilfully killed Dr. Lalacca.

"I saw him advance and then he caught hold of me; I fired in self-defense," he declared.

The proceedings lasted only a few minutes and the Hindoo prisoner was removed to jail under a strong guard.

This is the first time the methods of the terrorists have been introduced into public agitation in England, and the country has awakened to the fact in an ugly temper. The prisoner, whose age is given as 26, is said to have relatives in good standing in Calcutta.

At the India office the murder of Colonel Wylie, who was a political aide de camp to Lord Morley, secretary of state for India, is declared to be entirely political. Colonel Wylie, so far as is known, had no personal dealings with Dhinagari, and the India office believe the outrage was due to some imaginary wrong.

RAILROAD CREW LANDS IN JAIL

Buccaneering Methods of Southern Companies Lead to Trouble

SAN PEDRO, Cal., July 2.—The efforts of certain railroad and other private corporations to secure harbor advantages prior to the date set for the consolidation election in this city and Los Angeles assumed another phase today when Amos Keith, foreman of a Salt Lake Railroad' pile driver crew, and eleven of his men were arrested at Terminal Island charged with malicious mischief for removing a $2000 boat belonging to the city and driving piling at the municipal wharf, resulting in closing the public street. The city will attempt to enjoin the railroad companies from proceeding with the work.

FEARED ARREST ON CHARGE OF MURDER

Leaves Note Saying That Deed Was Inspired by His Grief

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2.—Raymond Lugo, evidently believing that he would be accused of murdering Mary Gonzales, committed suicide some time during the night and was found this morning in a room in the lodging house at 659 Kearny street with a gaping wound in his right temple, and a revolver by his side. A note, somewhat unintelligible in places, was deciphered to read as follows: "Good bye, good bye. Mary killed herself and I kill my life.—Raymond Lugo." On the back it read: "She is the only woman I love and killed herself. Now if I ask they will hold me." The body was found by F. Williams, a police man, who had hired a room last night shortly after hearing of Mary's suicide.

Accused by Brother

W. Gonzales, the brother of Mary Gonzales, who committed suicide in a sensational manner last night in her room, at 1235 Grant avenue, complained to the police this morning that he believed the girl had not killed herself, but had been murdered by her male companion. The latter is Raymond Lugo, said to be an ex-convict, who, it is claimed, was released from San Quentin only a month ago. The statements of the woman's sister, together with the position in which the dead body was found, however, all point to suicide, and Detectives Murphy and Esola, who are working on the case, scout the murder theory.

Thinks Pole Can Be Reached in Airship

BERLIN, July 2.—The proposal to reach the North Pole in a Zeppelin airship is regarded as feasible by Erik Von Drygalski, the well known polar explorer, who said today that the accomplishment of the project lies within the radius of action which Count Zeppelin already has demonstrated as possible for his craft. The dangerous and severe arctic storms must be reckoned with. Herr Von Drygalski regards the geographical and scientific aims of the expedition as fully justifying the venture and the expense entailed.

Half a Million in Jewels Are Stolen

LONDON, July 2.—The robbery of jewels valued at $500,000 from a Regent street restaurant has been reported to Scotland Yard by a traveler named P. G. Goldschmidt of Paris. The loot, which was in a handbag, consists of ten pearls, necklaces and a number of loose pearls and diamonds.

CHICAGO, (Cal.) July 2.—A man named Whitehead, during a quarrel with his son, Linton, this morning, stabbed the latter, who will probably die. The assailant was arrested. The row was over money, some lumber.

GOES AFTER HIS WATCH, IS FATALLY BURNED

LAKE PLACID, N. Y., July 2.—The Hotel Ritz-Carlton, one of the largest hotels in this resort, was burned last night. Some of the fifty guests had narrow escapes from death and were rescued with great difficulty. Albert Clapsdale, of Elton, N. Y., one of the hotel employees, who slept beneath the lower, went back for his watch and was fatally burned. The loss is estimated at $200,000.

SUNDAY'S DESSERT

LEHNHARDT'S

4th of July Dessert

We are going to celebrate Uncle Sam's birthday by getting up one of the finest desserts we ever made.

As usual, it will be in the form of a brick of ice cream in three layers.

Each layer in this Fourth of July brick is a masterpiece by itself, and the three form a combination delicious beyond all power of description.

The brick will be composed of:
One layer of maple pecan ice cream.
One layer of fresh peach ice cream.
One layer of fresh strawberry ice cream.

The maple pecan is made of carefully selected and cleaned pecan nut meats, genuine Vermont maple sugar and heavy cream. The nuts are ground and crushed into a paste which, mixed with cream and maple sugar, makes a wonderfully fine flavor.

The peach ice cream is made of fresh Fresno peaches especially selected from the best in the market. These peaches are crushed and the pure juice is mixed with cream, and frozen. The strawberry ice cream is made in the same manner from fine, firm Watsonville berries, and the heaviest cream obtainable is used.

There isn't a penny saved in expense in our endeavor to make this brick as fine as it can be made. We want you all Sunday pass without our special brick for your dessert.

On sale Sunday, Monday and all next week.
If you call and carry it home 60c
If we deliver it, packed in a freezer 80c

Each brick contains a full quart, enough for eight or nine people.

Chamber of Commerce Banquet.

From whatever standpoint considered, the assembly in the big banquet hall of the Scottish Rite Cathedral of six hundred of the leading citizens representing all walks of business and professional life on this side of the bay, was a memorable event. The gathering was under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce and its motif was to advance the industrial and commercial growth of Oakland and Alameda county. It was a splendid demonstration of the pride which is taken by the citizens engaged in its material activities, in its growth and development and a manifestation of their undying faith in the future progress and in the prosperity of Alameda county and its people generally.

While the Oakland Chamber of Commerce is, strictly speaking, a local organization, it stands for something broader in its scope than the city proper alone, for it extends the sphere of its usefulness over the county at large and over the industrial and commercial interests which have been numerous planted in every part of it and are contributing materially to the wealth and prosperity of its people. Every man present at the big banquet last night was, therefore, animated by the spirit of loyalty to the advancement of the best interests of the community and the county of which he is a citizen.

The banquet was the largest gathering of business and professional men ever gathered together around the festive board either in this city or in any other of the bay cities. It was a gathering which is sure to bear good fruits of lasting benefit to all interests established in the communities on the eastern side of San Francisco bay. Its influence will extend far and wide and rivet attention abroad more closely than ever to the important developments commercially and industrially which are taking place in Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda and the rich, prosperous, populous and growing communities located in the territory immediately tributary to them.

Mennonite Colony in Kern.

In a recent issue the Bakersfield Californian outlines a scheme of colonization in Kern county in process of development which is on a larger scale and in many respects more important than any which has been yet undertaken and carried out in California. The lands to be colonized are located in the arid territory lying northwest of Bakersfield. The projector of the enterprise is a Hillsboro, Kan., Mennonite, originally from the German Mennonite colonies located in Southern Russia, and the publisher of two German newspapers in Kansas which have jointly a circulation of 100,000 among the Mennonites of that State. He ranks as a millionaire, his fortune having been acquired through his newspapers and Mennonite colonization enterprises which he has carried out successfully in Kansas.

Single handed Martens has undertaken to plant a colony of anywhere from 5000 to 25,000 Mennonites on land now arid and unproductive, but irrigable from Kern river and artesian sources, and, under irrigation, capable of being devoted to orange and alfalfa culture. With his own money he has bought a vast acreage of this land from the Kern County Land and Water Company and from private individuals; and while the price of land there has advanced under the stimulus of his purchases, he still keeps on buying more. He makes no pretensions of entering on the venture save as a business proposition from which he expects to reap a fair profit. In the success of the enterprise he has supreme confidence.

The Mennonites are an exclusive sect which originated in Zurich, Switzerland, and were originally known as the Zurich Baptists. No sect in Europe suffered more from persecution. But it established colonies in Germany, Holland and France and the German branch spread into Southern Russia. The sect sought refuge from persecution in America at an early date, the first American colony locating at Germantown, Pa., in 1683. Colonies now exist in several States, and the sect is represented to be at present one million strong. Wherever located the Mennonites are noted for their simplicity of life, orderly conduct and industry. No sect in existence is reputed to be as well off financially and each member of the vanguard of the five thousand to settle on the subdivided land in Kern county will have approximately $50,000, half of which will be invested in the purchase of allotments and the building of homes and the remainder in the development of irrigation works and the productivity of the soil. In less than five years Martens is confident that 20,000 Kansas Mennonites will be located on the property. A colony of the character described, notwithstanding its religious exclusiveness, ought to be a great acquisition to California.

Russia is said to be preparing to send a punitive expedition to Teheran to protect Russian subjects from being outraged by revolutionists and to keep open the highway between Enzeli and the Persian capital, which is Russian property. It is represented that the British government will raise no objection to the expedition. This is in accord with the understanding reached some time ago by the British and Russian governments whereby their respective spheres of influence in the Shah's dominions were evenly divided, Russia confining herself to the northern part of Persia and Great Britain to Southern Persia, which gives her undisputed control of the Persian gulf.

Growth of Oakland's Commerce

The summary of the commerce of Oakland harbor compiled by the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce for the month of June is instructive and illustrates in a marked degree the progress which is being made in the harbor's business. The report shows that two hundred and seventy vessels docked in Oakland harbor during the past month. These vessels represented an aggregate tonnage of 123,533 tons. There was, therefore, an increase of seventy vessels and of 30,125 tons in the tonnage over the preceding month. The total number of vessels docked in Oakland harbor for the year ending July 1, 1909, as reported by the Chamber of Commerce, amounted to 2175, with a total tonnage of 1,115,150 tons. But the report for June shows a far greater increase in the commerce of the harbor than any previous month during the fiscal year. Every improvement made to the harbor and its wharves and approaches and every new industry established on its shores add to its commercial importance.

The island of Luzon is coming conspicuously to the front as a gold-bearing country. In two districts strikes of immensely rich ore were made this week. In one district a stringer was uncovered showing a value of $20,000 in gold to the ton, while the ore in the rest of the lode is said to run as high as $500 to the ton. The lode which is being exploited in the other district is turning out ore assaying $8000 to the ton. Dredging for gold has been carried on profitably in the neighborhood for some time past. The results from this method of mining have been so satisfactory that the plant is to be greatly enlarged. The Philippines thus seem to be fulfilling the predictions of American gold miners who accompanied the army during the war with Spain and the insurgents that they would prove to be large producers of gold in the future. But the gold-bearing belt is difficult and costly to prospect, so it is not likely to ever turn out to be a "poor man's mining country."

What They Do Not Favor.

(From Bakersfield Californian.)

Indeed, those who followed the testimony introduced in the case were left in the same state of mind as were the ten jurors. The presumption of guilt was there, but the proof was lacking. It is eminently unfair to criticize the majority of the jurors who voted for acquittal when the evidence, as submitted to them in the courtroom, failed to convince the reader of that evidence as it was reported in the press.

But there is another side to the question and that is that a very large proportion of the people are not in sympathy with the methods of what is commonly termed the "graft prosecution." The San Francisco Star, which has supported the prosecution, in a discussion of the question says:

"The disposition of the prosecution to try its cases in the newspapers, at banquets, political meetings and college commencements, with an occasional moot court in a church, and to charge its failures to the dishonesty of jurors and courts of appeal and the lack of virtue and public spirit in the community has certainly tended to make the people resentful. The constant assumption of superior virtues on the part of the coterie that has come to be known as 'The Prosecution' has certainly not allayed that feeling. Moreover, that feeling has been intensified by the silly and even criminal performances of certain newspapers.

"Above all things that have tended to alienate public sentiment from 'the prosecution,' the most potent has been the spirit of personal malice that has characterized the conduct of some of the prosecutors. The people of this country believe in fair trials of persons charged with crime; they believe that public prosecutors should be real ministers of justice, as willing and eager to avoid unfairness to defendants as to convict the guilty, as careful to vindicate the law in the conduct of trials as they are ready to punish the violators of the substantive laws of the land. Trials are held to vindicate the law, not to wreak public or private vengeance upon the guilty.

"Fair-minded persons, and most people believe in fairness, do not approve of the spirit shown by a prosecutor who says, before trial, of a defendant of previous good reputation and who has previously enjoyed and justified public confidence: 'I'll get him,' and 'He's my meat.' They do not approve of the spirit of the prosecutor who, in and out of court, and acting in the name of the public and public justice, is constantly giving vent to similar expressions of personal vindictiveness. Justice is not vindictive, but calm. She does not strike until guilt is established.

"These things have affected the minds of jurors as well as the great mind of the public, and have largely contributed to the failure of the graft prosecution. Crime is abhorrent to the public mind of every community in this country, but it is not more abhorrent than personal malice and personal spleen in the prosecution of persons charged with crime."

Topics, Timely and Interesting

SURGERY WITHOUT CHLOROFORM.

A poor young chap had terrible headaches, eye troubles and paralysis of both arms and legs, showing that motor center in the top story of his brain was being put out of business by some sort of growth or abscess inside of the skull. The young fellow had the complication of lung and heart troubles, and the doctors were afraid to take chances of putting him to sleep, so they cut down and opened up his brain without chloroform.

ON THE NAKED BRAIN.

This is the first time a human being's brain has ever been so dug into and searched and experimented with without chloroform or ether, and the consequences, as we expected, were astonishing as unexpected and strange. The boy talked with the surgeons all the time they were cutting and skinning his brain, was entirely at himself and never lost his mind and never felt a twinge of pain while all this brain surgery was going on.

After trepanning and chiseling a big hole in the boy's skull, the outer skin of the brain bulged out in the bottom of the hole. The doctors didn't stop with this, but cut this fearfully dangerous skin crosswise, and then the naked brain itself bulged out and was laid bare. Not satisfied with boring a hole in the head and skinning the brain, these brain experimenters lanced a knife right down into the living, throbbing brain of the helpless youth, and slowly dug, tore and cut out from the gray and white matter two good-sized water bag growths, which Dr. Cushing called cysts.

STRANGE CYSTS.

Strange to say, the boy quickly got well, was himself again and as good as ever, showing that some other part of the brain had become educated to take the place and do the work of the chunk taken out with the cysts. It showed many other things too numerous to mention that these experimenters wanted to know and were hunting for. Another thing, it showed for the first time, by the absence of any pain, that thought and sensation were independent of each other, and it seemed to show that thought could go on uninterrupted and undisturbed through an operation lasting three hours on a badly torn-up brain, which might make a man think that thought and the soul have strange, weird, perhaps unearthly and immortal powers of living and surviving.

MAY BE BRAIN GRAFTING NOW.

Inasmuch as the experimenters have found out that it does not hurt when the brain is cut and slashed, there is no telling what they will be doing next, for these doctors are mighty studious about the brain. Tip would not wonder if up at Rockefeller's institute they will be trying brain grafting to make expert grafters, or, maybe, Dr. Flexner and Carrel will be growing parrots' brains into dogs and cats to hear them talk.

KILLING FINE AIR.

Sea air ceases to be sea air after it passes through crowds of people and crowded buildings, consequently some find themselves no better off after a trip to the beach than before. In the large places of amusement by the sea the air is fine, freshening and bracing, almost crisp to a fault, and whether one walks around, dances or sits feasting or drinking, the air is stimulating and exhilarating—a tonic. However, in some of the more interior resorts there is hardly a breath of air, and the air is about as quiet and stale as in village churches, where windows are kept closed year in and year out.

AIRLIGHT RESORTS.

Some of the beach resorts across the dusty streets away from the sea are almost air-tight, being hemmed in around by high tin fences, making big, choking, dusty pockets, large windless, windowless inclosures, where no honest mouthful or capful of air is to be had, and in these places visitors, without realizing the cause, shortly feel thirsty and peevish and want to go home.

GENERATING TOXIES.

Wise people always consider the ventilation of places where they have to sit or stir about for several hours. Breathing in stale and confined air leaves a man depressed for hours or a day from effluvia and toxics that are both inhaled and generated in the system.

INDIANS IN A CLOSED ROOM.

People of fresh air habits and discernment almost instantly and unconsciously are able to tell the presence of deleterious and injurious agents in the air, although these give no sign or warning to the senses. On this account an Indian has an unbearable sense of oppression in a closed room.

DRINKS AS MEN KILLERS.

A distinguished Kentucky physician is quoted as saying that in Kentucky for every one death from whisky, one thousand deaths have been caused by impure milk; that for every single death produced by whisky drinking, there have been five thousand deaths from contaminated water. The doctor prefaced his remarks with the hope that he would not be misunderstood or misrepresented.

SCIENCE AND PUBLICITY.

Dr. ePitt of Ottawa says: "No agent is more potent for good or evil than the secular press which each day reaches 90 per cent of the reading public. Busy people get about all of their general information from newspapers, which are the only printed source of information for fully one-half of the reading public. The physician who furthers his own interest by doing good work is entitled to the reward which such service may bring. This may be scientific research, promotion of public health or anything or everything which promotes legitimate medicine and public welfare. Encourage legitimate publicity along rational and less harmful lines."

MESCAL AND THE INDIANS

Mescal as a narcotic is used to an extent that is becoming alarming among the American Indians.

Mescal is the product of a cactus which has long been used among the Mexicans as an intoxicant under the name of peyote. The Indians use the mescal button—a kind of bean, very bitter, which is sometimes chewed and sometimes brewed in a kind of tea. It produces hallucinations of such a character as to place this plant in the same rank with hashish, opium and other drugs which have produced for men the joys of an artificial paradise.

The Kiowa Indians are said to have used the mescal button from time immemorial in religious ceremonies. Gradually the practice has spread northward. The Poncas and some of their neighbors in Indian Territory and Oklahoma took it up. Thence it extended to the Omahas and Winnebagoes, and now the practice is acquiring foothold among the Sioux.

The tribes which have longest used it have sent missionaries to introduce their wonderful new medicine among other tribes, and wherever it becomes known its allurements prove irresistible. Clubs are formed for social indulgence in this narcotic. In some cases the students returned from Eastern and other boarding-schools have become members and promoters of these clubs.

The meetings are usually held in the afternoon. After the mysterious ceremonies in acknowledgment of the secret power of the strange divinity have taken place the buttons are passed around for chewing, four or five to each member, and the tea is brewed and drunk. Only the novice experiences any unpleasant sensation, and this soon passes off. There ensues only a blissful feeling of lassitude accompanied by a delicious sense of happiness and peace.

One other effect of this remarkable drug must be noted in this brief summary: The mescal takes away all desire for alcoholic drink.—From the Hampton Institute Southern Workman.

From Abroad

"June 1," says the English Mail of Frankfurt, "was a notable date in the annals of France. It was the thirtieth anniversary of the day on which the hopes of the Bonapartists fell under the spear of eighteen Zulus. Little did those savage warriors realize how momentous had been their murder of this palefaced youth. Born three years before the present Kaiser, whose playmate he was in the Tuileries in 1867, the Prince Imperial would now have been in his fifty-third year, and who knows—if he had returned crowned from Zululand—perhaps Napoleon IV."

"Dingoism," the new word introduced into Australian politics by way of antithesis to "Jingoism," is derived from the name of the wild dog of the antipodes—dingo. Before the arrival of the white Australian natives had trained the dingoes to assist them in hunting. The dingoes soon began to attack the white men's sheep and so became an enemy to be shot at sight. Real dingoes are now very rare, except in the vast unsettled areas of the north. The dingo of the north is a small but combative animal, carrying his tail curled over his back, and ready to attack anything that comes in his way.

In France the consumption of tobacco is greatly on the increase. In 1908 there were consumed 19,000,000 cigars of foreign make and 577,000,000 of French manufacture. The total amount expended in smoke is given at 126,002,000 francs ($25,000,000). The Antitobacco society of France is having considerable trouble with "hecklers," who quote the case of a Mme. Snoy, who celebrated her 107th birthday recently, and maintained that the secret of her longevity lay in her pipe, which she had smoked regularly from the time she was 12 years old.

Stories of Places

The neighborhood of Westminster, are glad to wear gloves, and not alone in order to exhibit the proper gentleness to women. One policeman says that the "auffragette" wriggles and the place to catch her for her painless dismemberment is just below the shoulder. "She's found that out," continued the constable, "and the whole lot of them stick pins around their arms and my gloves have got torn to ribbons."

Colorado is making an experiment of the honor system among the convicts who work on its highways. About fifty of the prison birds have recently been working on a road between Canon City and Telluride, with no keepers watching them and only two foremen or overseers to direct the work. Not one has tried to escape. They are doing such a satisfactory job that it is proposed to use 200 in constructing an improved highway between Denver and Canon City.

Italians love statues and occasionally erect them to some singular persons. The little town of Meldola, near Ravenna, Italy, has just been the scene of an imposing ceremony. In the presence of the town grandees the people have unveiled a monument to Felix Orsini, who made the historic attempt on the life of Napoleon III. on March 24, 1868, in Paris, when the casualties numbered 130. The statue represents Orsini on the way to his execution. Meldola is the birthplace of Orsini.

GLASS COFFINS

A Baltimore manufacturer has just completed the first glass coffin ever made, it is said. Dr. H. G. Becker, of Texas, the inventor, is here directing the casting of the coffins. They are warranted to be as lasting as if made of stone.

The end is attached and hermetically sealed. The closing of the "breath" of the coffin opens a vial of chemicals which take gaseous form and act as an extra preserving agent. An air pump is then attached to an opening left for the purpose in the coffin, a vacuum is established, and the aperture is then sealed.—New York Tribune.

It is reported from Vienna that E. J. Harriman is taking part in all the local social events. Presumably he is enjoying himself at the fireman's ball and the old settlers' picnic.

It is not of much importance that Mrs. Howard Gould says her continuing cost from $35,000 to $40,000 a year, that her dinner gowns cost $600 to $800, her morning gowns $100 to $150, street gowns $50, tea gowns $300 to $400, and reception gowns $500. The important point is, who earned the money that paid for those gowns? She did not, but did her husband?—The Star.

State Press

A citizen of Livermore recently went to Oakland as a committee to purchase a motto for a Livermore Sunday school. On his arrival in the city he found to his consternation that he had forgotten the wording of the desired motto and he was obliged to telegraph his wife for the desired information. He was astonished to receive in reply the following: "Unto Us a Child is Given, eight feet long and two wide."—San Leandro Standard.

That alleged literary colony of Joaquin Miller is still worrying the press. One night fancy that California's overrun with writers and that Joaquin is afraid of losing some of them unless he provides suitable accommodations on the "Heights."—San Jose Times.

Mrs. James Wilson of Berkeley is a woman of nerve and resource. She was attacked on the street late at night by T. H. Riley, who rudely grasped her by the shoulders. He had a bottle in his pocket, which the plucky woman discovered and used to beat him over the head. He and the bottle broke about the same time. When Riley was arraigned in court, Mrs. Wilson said she did not want him fined, but would like a chance to inflict the penalty he deserved with her own hands. If more women had Mrs. Wilson's nerve and quick wit there would be fewer cases of assault on them while going peaceably about their own business.—Stockton Independent.

The San Francisco Globe has discovered at least one merit in the pending tariff bill, which is that its provisions will not do Canada any harm. Now, if Canada could only adopt a tariff bill that wouldn't do us any harm, then the two countries might swap goods and everything would be lovely.—Santa Rosa Press-Democrat.

We note by THE TRIBUNE that the Oakland street department and the Board of Public Works have joined in an application to the City Council for an appropriation to test a new scheme of combining crude oil and macadam in road-making. It is recognized generally by road makers that the combination is a good one, provided the macadam is thoroughly soaked with the oil. Once the combination is formed, the result is a durable roadbed, dustless in summer and mudless in winter. Whenever that result has been obtained an ideal highway for the carrying of ordinary traffic is produced. The wear on the surface roadway once constructed has been reduced to minimum and so also the cost of maintenance in repair.

The problem that roadmakers have been trying to solve is the best, cheapest and most effective method of applying the oil to the macadamized roadbed. The earlier experiments with oil, was the saturation of the surface of natural roads with it. That was the plan adopted by the southern counties and in the San Joaquin valley in natural road improvement.

In the experiments in progress a new method of treatment has been adopted, namely, to flow the surface of macadam, sprinkle it freely with oil and roll it back into place. Evidently the Oakland street department and Board of Public Works have reasonably reached the conclusion that if the macadam is saturated with oil before laying and after being spread as desired and rolled to form a smooth surface a perfect roadbed can be more quickly and economically made than by any other method. The suggestion is so sensible and simple that it would not get it all that it was not thought of earlier.—San Bernardino Index.

Twenty Years Ago in Oakland

The City Council adopts a resolution requesting the Mayor to revoke the appointment of City Attorney Johnson because of alleged unsatisfactory service in the matter of the passage of the ordinance extending the fire limits in this city. The vote on the resolution was three for Messrs. Evans, Earl, MacDonald, Cameron, Towle and Brownham. Those in the negative were Messrs. Wakenfield, Hackett and Collins.

Major Heuer, of the engineering corps of the United States Army, advertising for bids for supplying a light-house for the mouth of Oakland harbor.

Attorneys Chapman, Yule, Sam P. He and J. M. Foster give their opinion that the action of the council with respect to City Attorney Johnson cannot have any effect on the holding of the office in question by that gentleman.

S. M. Clements, local engineer of the Southern Pacific, is to succeed H. J. Small, recently appointed superintendent of motive power and machinery of the same company.

Frank Clements and Charles Freeman have narrow escape from death by drowning. They were precipitated into the water near the Narrow Gauge mole in the dark last night by their horse which was drawing a buggy in which they were riding, plunging off the pier into the water. The men threaten to sue the company for damages.

THE CALL OF THE HILLS.

I list its sound in the night,
The surge song of the sea!
I mark it, a walter of white
Or gray with the driven rain;
I watch it broad and bright,
A sapphire harmony—
But the hills call and the rifle call
So 'tis for the hills again!

The ships go wavering by,
And fade on the faint air rim;
Graceful the white gull fly,
Their cry like a far refrain;
The low wind comes like a sigh,
From the outer islands dim—
But the hills call and the rifle call
So it's for the hills again!

I turn my back on the foam,
On the long curved line of shore,
On the dunes and the reedy loam,
And the murmur of the main
Oh, the hills call and the rifle call
So it's for the hills again!
Hark! the hills call and the rifle call,
So it's for the hills again.

"The New Way"

Summer sales are usually built upon the desire to reduce stocks to the lowest point before stock-taking, and remnants, odds and ends and left-over goods are disposed of during these summer sales. HALE'S SUMMER SALE marks an innovation. Stock-taking is past, old goods cleaned out, the records of the half-year closed. Day by day new goods are pouring into our store, the harvest gathered by expert buyers, who have scoured the markets of the country. It's off with the old and on with the new. Late fashions, patterns and styles all have their place in this Summer Sale, a sale justified by the fact that all is new, fresh and clean.

As ever, low pricing will play its prominent part in Hale's Summer Sale—due to our tremendous buying power in the markets—the ability to multiply single store orders by six, thereby gaining the extra price concessions and extra attention manufacturers are so eager to give.

It has been our aim to have every item quoted in this advertisement entirely new in every way, but occasionally, where goods have been late in arrival and in order that every department may be well represented in this great sale, we have substantially reduced in price good, staple articles which will undoubtedly appeal to your sense of economy.

Children's Neat Summer Frocks

French, Russian and Jumper Dresses

of Best Summer Goods—45c to 79c Each

These smart summer frocks are in good taste—stylish and serviceable—and well worth the prices marked. They come in sizes 2 to 6 years.

Merchants Donate Trophies for Races

BIG TIME PROMISED AT THE RELIANCE AUTOMOBILE RACES.

Frank Bilger, who is one of the most prominent members of the arrangement committee promoting the Reliance automobile meet for next Monday afternoon at Emeryville track, has found the merchants most enthusiastic over the proposition of holding races, and handsome cups and trophies have been presented by the business houses. Over twenty-five valuable prizes have already been donated, which will be awarded to the winners and those who come second and third in the different contests.

Never before has such interest been noticed in Oakland in any local event, and the encouragement that the Reliance promoters are meeting with in the disposal of their tickets indicates that one of the largest crowds which ever attended an auto meet west of the Mississippi will be on hand to witness what promise to be an exciting exhibition between members of the Reliance and Olympic clubs. Mrs. Brodell's five-mile race against time has also aroused a great deal of talk.

Tomorrow night an auto parade will be held through the principal streets of the city. The machines will be decorated in all the fantastic and original designs that the mind can suggest and as a sort of appetizer to the main procession twenty or thirty members of the athletic organization will turn themselves into clowns and perform antics on the street corners, using this feature as a means of notifying the people of the auto races on July 5th.

the strongest grounds for complaint that her husband berated her because, when she married him, she failed to bring a dowry. Mrs. Zella E. Russell has been granted an interlocutory decree of divorce from Dr. P. N. Russell, a prominent physician of this place. She further alleged that he complained because a competence had not been placed on them at the time of their marriage, and stated that if her father did not have the ready money for that purpose he could have mortgaged his property. According to Mrs. Russell, her husband is an extremely religious man, and never approved of the fact that she believed in innocent recreations.

She stated that on one occasion she attended a basketball game at the Young Men's Christian Association in company with another woman, and was accosted by her husband. Again, she recites in her complaint that he humiliated her by asserting at the time they were married that her trunk was old and shabby.

The suit was not contested. The Russells were married in San Francisco on August 14, 1889. They have one child, a son, who will spend part of his time with both parents.

A Pittsburg forger was traced hither and thither by a little yellow grip. The Chinese fugitive, however, may be identified by his little yellow mug.

OAKLAND WOMAN SAVED FROM RIVER

Guerneville Man and Girl Rescue Bathing From Treacherous Current

GUERNEVILLE, July 2.—A double tragedy was narrowly averted here yesterday afternoon when Miss Catherine Le Morle of Toronto, Canada, and Mrs. A. H. Hase of Oakland, were rescued from the treacherous currents of the Russian river through the heroic efforts of D. J. La Vega, a well known resort man, and Miss G. Smith, a sixteen-year-old girl, also a resident of this place.

Miss Le Morle was bathing in the river when she suddenly got beyond her depth, but as she was supposed to be a good swimmer, none of the other bathers paid much attention to her cries. Just as she was sinking for the third time, however, La Vega, who had been dressing in a nearby bathroom, plunged into the water and grasped the sinking girl. Their struggles so excited Mrs. Hase that she plunged into the river with her clothes on.

The cries of the spectators reached Mrs. Smith who was at a spot further up the river, and hurrying as fast as she could, reached Mrs. Hase and managed to get her out of the river. Meanwhile La Vega, assisted by W. M. McKel, of San Francisco, got Miss Le Morle out of the river.

MAGNATE'S WIFE SEEKS DIVORCE

Mrs. Lucieshi Shallenberg Joins Separation Colony at Reno

RENO (Nev.), July 2.—Mrs. Lucieshi Shallenberg of East Orange, N. J., is in Reno for the purpose of getting a divorce from her husband. She arrived here but three days ago and has secured a residence for she will have to remain at least six months to meet the legal requirements. She has engaged a prominent firm of lawyers who are accustomed to handle such cases, and seems to be well supplied with funds. Mrs. Shallenberg is the wife of Samuel Shallenberg of the firm of Lord & Taylor of New York.

DOLLAR GRANTED DIVORCE DECREE

Wife Lets Suit Go by Default Though Represented in Court

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2.—As a climax to an advertisement inserted in various local papers a few days ago by Robert Stanley, solicitor of his wife's debts, comes the news that his divorce granted yesterday by Judge Van Ness. Mrs. Hazel Dollar, although she is in the city at the home of her mother, Mrs. I. Pierce Smith, let the suit go by default within fifteen minutes after the case came up for hearing. Mrs. Dollar's attorney, Henry A. Ach, was present in court but asked no questions. Dollar obtained his divorce on the grounds of desertion, the testimony of the plaintiff and Miss Adrian Smith, Mrs. Dollar's former maid, who was married in December 1902 and was separated in 1905.

CECILIA LOFTUS IS SECRETLY MARRIED

London Surgeon Telephones Manager Actress Is Ill; Visits Registry Office

LONDON, July 2.—Cecilia Loftus, the actress who some time ago divorced Justin Huntley McCarthy, was married again yesterday, the most secret being preserved for reasons not apparent and the fact being unknown in London except to a few of the intimate friends of the bride.

Mrs. Loftus has been playing this week at the Coliseum. This evening the manager received a telephone message from a physician whose attention to her lately has been much remarked, saying that she was unable to appear. It is understood that the reason for her absence is the much more romantic one of the wedding. The happy man is the physician in question.

The marriage took place at the Registry Office. The news became public at two late an hour to ascertain the details but the fact is incontrovertible.

GIRLS MUST STAY OUT OF SALOONS

Salvation Army Lasses No Longer Permitted to Collect From Liquor Men

CHICAGO, July 2.—Salvation Army girls with their poke bonnets and tambourines, no longer will be seen in saloons and wineries soliciting funds for their organization. The expectation of Mayor A. T. Brewer of the city is that the annual report of the Salvation Army girls, which was made by the Mayor's committee on the subject of the collection of funds for the Salvation Army, will be a success. The girls are no longer permitted to collect from liquor men.

MEAT INSPECTORS ARE EXONERATED

Investigating Committee Declares That Charges Against Officials Are Unfounded

WASHINGTON, July 2.—The committee appointed by Secretary Wilson, composed of Dr. A. D. Melvin of the bureau of animal industry, and George P. McCabe, solicitor of the department, which investigated the charges of J. F. Harms that the federal meat inspection service at East St. Louis was "rotten and a farce" yesterday reported that the inspectors there were honest men and that no most had duties efficiently and that no most had passed which was unfit for human food. The report, which was submitted to the secretary and approved by him, declares that while there is absolutely no basis for the charges made by Mr. Harms, they undoubtedly will reflect injuriously on the foreign market for American meat food products.

FRIENDS WATCH, BUT NONE APPEAR

Despite This Threatening Letter Writer Evidently Came After the Money

SAN JOSE, July 2.—J. R. Chase, manager of the Associated Oil Company, who several days ago received a letter threatening his life unless he deposited $1000 at a certain spot on the bank of the Guadalupe river last Tuesday night, is inclined to believe that the letter is a joke, but his friends think differently. He followed the instructions, filling the canvas bag with iron washers, and two friends remained hidden near the spot all night but no one appeared.

Investigation Wednesday morning revealed a boat moored just below, attached to which was a long line with a large grab hook at the end. With this contrivance the boat owner could row above the spot where the bag was sunk in the water and remove it without bringing it to the surface. In the letter to Chase the author warned him that if he informed the police he would be dynamited or poisoned.

Pleasanton News Notes

PLEASANTON, July 2.—Mrs. Charles Barlin of Salinas is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. W. J. Schwen. Mrs. Barlin has just purchased a White Stearns. Miss Ruth Deveney who attends the Notre Dame convent in Santa Cruz arrived Thursday morning and will remain here until Saturday evening. The Pleasanton school will run through Pleasanton about September. George Schach left Saturday for Seattle. Mrs. Rice is at Lake Tahoe and will remain there a few weeks. A number of Pleasanton people spent Sunday at Camp Hurry in the Redwood canyon. They were Charles Schwen, Mrs. Lila Schwen, Mr. and Mrs. C. Leitham, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Schwen, Mr. and Mrs. L. P. George and Mrs. Dan Fallon. The Pleasanton school building, which was burned the ground a few months ago, will be rebuilt on a site of $20,000. It will be a three-story building, with about 100 rooms. Mrs. Charles Griffith, Dr. McConnell and Walter Moore went on a fishing trip through the hills. On Thursday afternoon of this week, a "Lumber Bee" was given at the home of Mrs. J. C. Gilman and which was a great success. The evening harvest of Mrs. Gilman's daughter, Miss Lila, to Frank Gale. The marriage will take place in the early fall. Miss Lila Gilman is one of Pleasanton's best known young women, and was formerly a teacher in the local school.

TENANTS MUST HAVE CHILDREN

New Apartment House Is Foe of Race Suicide; Offer Prizes for Babies

ST. LOUIS, July 2.—The first apartment house in the United States where tenants without children will not be accepted will be erected in St. Louis in the most exclusive part of town adjacent to two apartments where families with children are barred. The new apartment will cost $400,000. There will be no limit to the number of children in any family. Every girl baby born in the structure will earn a month's rent free for its parents, and to the couple blessed with a baby boy a two-months' rent receipt will be given. The babies will be granted a year's privilege of the nursery in the perfect care of a trained nurse.

Each suit of rooms will be fitted up with a playroom, and there will be a general playroom in the basement in charge of instructors to teach the coming generations physical culture. A dancing-room, with instructors, will also be operated free for the children.

Plumbers went to Detroit on account of the beauty of the place and not because they thought there was some chance of getting a job plumbing the Detroit ball team.

OPERATION HER ONLY CHANCE

Was Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Adrian, Ga.—"I suffered untold misery from a female weakness and disease, and I could not stand more than a minute at a time. My doctor said an operation was the only chance I had, and I dreaded it almost as much as death. One day I was reading how other women had been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and decided to try it. Before I had taken one bottle I was better, and now I am completely cured."—LENA V. HENRY, Route No. 3, Adrian, Ga.

Why will women take chances with an operation or drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound? For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has cured thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backaches, indigestion, and nervous prostration. If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be absolutely confidential, and the advice free.

MILLIONAIRE MAY FORGIVE HIS WIFE

Deserted Los Angeles Capitalist Is Delaying His Suit For Divorce

LOS ANGELES, July 2.—Will beautiful Mrs. John Wright Hunt be forgiven by her sixty-five-year-old million husband? Is the popular story stirring up the gossip of California and Europe. Mrs. Hunt, who was Henriette Babcock of Detroit, married him at eight years ago when she was only twenty-one years old. They traveled continually for the first year of their married life and finally settled down at the Hotel Carlton in Paris. Mrs. Hunt met Alexander D'Amboise, a Frenchman, a few days after her husband's departure. She began the couple disappeared in company. Divorce proceedings were threatened by Hunt but they have been delayed in time the suit and in view of the husband's well known reputation as a young and fascinating wife, the report has now taken on currency that a reconciliation is probable. When Mrs. Hunt and her Russian lover fled from the Paris hotel the woman took $50,000 worth of jewelry with her. Which she and her lover were found at "Chalet" a stately scene owned and Hunt went back with the jewelry, but without his wife.

5 MILLIONAIRES MUST GO TO JAIL

Sheriffs Scour San Francisco For Cattle Capitalists Indebted $22,902 to Woman

BENCH WARRANT OUT FOR HENRY MILLER

Mrs. Potter Claims Trustees of Miller & Lux Firm Owe Her Dividends

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2.—Pursuant to an order made today by Superior Judge A. M. Seawell, deputy sheriffs are scouring the city for five millionaire trustees of the Miller & Lux Company, who have been ordered imprisoned in the county jail without the privilege of bail, until a payment of $22,902 is made to Mrs. Melissa A. Potter, holder of 7334 shares of stock in the corporation.

The men for whom bench warrants were issued are Henry Miller, president of the company; J. Leroy Nicoll, Edward T. Allen, Louis A. Montague and Gustave Gotch. Mrs. Potter's attorneys allege that the money demanded is accumulated dividends, but that the trustees have refused payment, offering in lieu thereof stock in the Miller & Lux Corporation of Nevada. Three weeks ago the order was made for the payment of the money, and when Mrs. Potter's attorneys appeared today and notified the court that the amount was still due, the bench warrants were issued.

STOLEN JEWELS PROVED PASTE

Burglars Tried to Sell Smart Set Leader's Diamonds, But Couldn't

SAN JOSE, July 2.—Considerable excitement exists in the fashionable set over the confession of Frank Boudier, a burglar, who has acknowledged the theft of jewelry valued at $2000 from the residence of Mrs. William P. Dougherty, leader of San Jose society. The startling story which Boudier has given to the detectives has set society gossiping and there is much comment about the jewelry which Mrs. Dougherty lost.

Boudier says the diamonds he secured at the Dougherty residence were valued by the owner at nearly $1500, but when he attempted to dispose of them some months later in Los Angeles the jeweler convinced him the stones were imitations. Now jealousy has taken hold of the madd and matrons of San Jose society and there is much gossip as to the value of the jewelry other social leaders wear.

Mrs. Dougherty is the recognized social leader in San Jose. She is wealthy and lives in a splendid residence in North First street, which is often the scene of exclusive gatherings. The elect of San Francisco and other bay cities are regularly entertained by her and she is looked on as the social arbiter. As for her diamonds, every one has admired them and it comes with surprise that they were the finest imitations I have ever seen," said one of her friends.

TRY TO SETTLE WAGE SCHEDULE

Judson Iron Works Management Want a Reduction in Wage Agreement

The Judson Iron Works at Emeryville will be closed until July 4, pending the settlement of a controversy between the management of the works and the officers of the Iron, Steel and Tin Workers' Union. There are about one hundred men in this union while about two hundred men in other departments are affected by the disagreement. The Judson people want to have the matter settled as soon as possible. They do not want any trouble if they can avoid it.

July 1st was the date on which the annual agreement between the union and the management was to have been signed. A committee representing the union and the officers of the company, including E. E. Bothin and Manager F. D. Parsons, met at the offices of the company in San Francisco on Tuesday night, but were unable to agree, and yesterday morning the men were told that the plant would be closed for repairs until after July 4th. Some three hundred men are employed all of whom are laid off.

Another meeting will be held in an effort to settle the matter. The company has demanded a reduction in the wage scale for the skilled men. To this the union has refused to accede. The agreement of last year provided for a wage schedule of between $4.50 and $8.40 for the skilled men.

TEACHERS' CONVENTION OPENS SESSION TODAY

BERKELEY, July 2.—The first annual convention of the teachers of classic languages of the northern end of the state opened this morning in the faculty room of California Hall on the college campus. President James T. Allen, delivering the address of welcome. The proceedings this morning and afternoon were devoted to great measure to a discussion of the methods of teaching Latin and the need of improvement in the requirements of Latin and Greek in the high schools. Among those participating were Professors L. J. Richardson, Miss Frances Hodgkinson, Professor E. B. Clapp, W. J. Cooper, Professor Elmore of Stanford, and others.

The officers of the association are: President, Professor James Turney Allen, University of California; Vice-President, Mr. Morris C. James, Berkeley High School; Secretary-Treasurer, Mr. Walter Huddleston, Oakland High School; Executive committee, the officers named above and Miss Frances Hodgkinson, Lowell High School and Miss Gertrude La Motte, Santa Clara High School.

NEW COUNCILMEN ARE GIVEN BIG BANQUET

POINT RICHMOND, July 2.—A citizens' inaugural banquet at which the nine new councilmen recently elected to preside over Point Richmond's civic affairs under the new city charter were given a glad welcome was held last night in the Town Hall. More than 300 people were present. The new charter went into effect today. The councilmen who were guests of honor at the banquet were G. A. Elliott, B. J. Gerrard, J. R. Willis, J. C. Owens, Edward M. Dorr, John Haynatt, H. E. Wyatt, O. R. Ludwig and J. T. Dooling.

County officials of Contra Costa county participated in the welcome to the new city officials. L. D. Windrum was toastmaster. Oakland caterers provided the extensive menu, which cost $2.50 a plate. W. H. H. Hart, formerly Attorney-General of California, was the principal speaker.

Although the new charter going away with the old board of City Trustees and providing City Councilmen went into effect today, the new officials will not take up their duties until Tuesday next. At that time many appointments to city positions will be made. Three of the new councilmen were former City Trustees.

COMFORT DEPOTS IN PUBLIC PARKS

Board of Works Takes up Matter of Installing Many Stations

The matter of establishing public comfort stations in the public streets and parks of the city was referred by the public service committee to the board of works for a report. City Engineer Turner suggested that stations could be placed in the city hall plaza, a little west of Oakland square, and in the county court-house square. He further suggested that DeFremery, Bushrod, Adams Point and other parks be provided with suitable stations for the convenience of the public.

POSTMASTERS ARE NAMED.

Walte N. Vance of Oakland has been appointed assistant photographer on the geological survey.
Bellnap Goldsmith of Alameda was today appointed forest assistant in the bureau of forestry.

DIVORCE DECREE IS GRANTED MRS. PEREIRA

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2.—The Supreme Court has reversed that part of Mrs. Anna Agnes Pereira from Frank Pereira, an Oakland saloon keeper, who is reputed to have an income of $1,000 a year, in so far as the decree splits up the community property and granted allmony to the wife. On these two matters the case was ordered heard a second time by Judge Wagoner, from whose decision the husband appealed.

The decree gave Mrs. Pereira three-fifths of the community property, which was estimated to be worth $10,000, as soon as it should become final. If not, she was to have the custody of a minor child and temporary alimony. The amount of divorce was affirmed by the Supreme Court, which quashed the division of property and the alimony.

WILL VISIT SISTER.
Mrs. E. G. Greenough will arrive in Oakland in August after a year's absence in the Philippines, where her husband, Captain Greenough, has been stationed. During her stay, here she will be the guest of her sister, Mrs. Harry Bishop, at the home of the latter on Alameda. Mrs. Bishop will entertain extensively in honor of Mrs. Greenough, who will probably remain here for three months, then going on to New York.

HOME FOR THE SUMMER.
Mrs. James Gleason (Lucille Webster) will arrive in Oakland on Sunday and will be the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Edward Beardsley, for several weeks. She will be accompanied by Miss Maribelle Seymour, who will also share Mrs. Gleason's hospitality.

Lina Colburn Gleason will not leave Portland, where the family has been stopping, for some time, as her husband is very ill, however, it is hoped she will soon be able to join her daughter-in-law and little grandchild.

Mrs. T. D. Webster is planning to entertain for the visitors, and several others will help to make their vacation a pleasant one.

Both Mrs. Gleason and Miss Seymour are immensely popular in Portland and are feted by the most exclusive families.

WILL VISIT SEATTLE.
Dr. Sarah I. Shurey will leave tomorrow for a visit to Seattle and will enjoy her fortnight's stay in the Northwest.

Mrs. J. H. Roach has been prominently identified with philanthropic affairs and is an active member of several women's clubs.

RETURN TO OAKLAND.
Mr. and Mrs. John M. Croghan have returned from their honeymoon trip and will establish a home in Oakland.

GIRL A HEROINE.

WENT TO KENTFIELD.
Mrs. F. Madden with her daughters, Miss Helen and Miss Anita, have gone to Kentfield, where the family have taken a cottage for the summer.

They have as their house guest Miss Gertrude Quinn.

VISITING AT MARE ISLAND.
Mrs. Martha Gleason, who has spent some months in Southern California, is again with her daughter, Mrs. Charles Willis Fisher, wife of Constructor Fisher in their home in Mare Island.

Mrs. Gleason is an author and dramatic reader of note and is interested in the upbuilding of the mountain whites in the south.

WENT TO TAHITI.
Among the passengers who sailed yesterday for Tahiti were Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Higgins and their daughter, Miss Albert Higgins. They left on the Mariposa and expect to be away for some time. Miss H. H. Board and Miss Mary H. H. have also started on the same interesting journey.

A large number of friends and relatives crowded the dock to bid farewell to those who left for the enchanting trip, and the great vessel swung slowly away, each passenger threw a little ball of ribbon into the throng on shore, at the same time holding one end of the bright silken band. Their friends caught the other end and retained them until they parted. Many prominent people from both sides of the bay went out yesterday on the Mariposa and the crowd to bid them "bon voyage" was the largest seen at a dock for some time.

WILL WED THIS MONTH.
One of the July weddings of interest to society on both sides of the bay will be that of Miss Mabel Thayer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Thayer, and Horace Sisson of the Hawaiian Islands. Miss Thayer is a gifted musician and a girl of great personal charm.

MRS. E. G. GREENOUGH, Who Will Visit Mrs. Harry Bishop.

Her family resided in Oakland formerly, but of late have made their home in San Rafael. Miss Thayer is a graduate of a Boston Conservatory of Music.

VISITING IN PIEDMONT.
Mrs. E. C. Farham has as houseguests Mrs. Laura M. Crandall and her daughter, Miss Helen Crandall, the latter having recently returned from Fresno.

Several informal affairs have of late been given in honor of the visitors. Next week, Mrs. Farham and her guests will go to Lake Tahoe to enjoy a outing of a month or so.

AT HIGHLAND SPRINGS.
Mr. and Mrs. William Smith and family have gone to Highland Springs for a visit of several weeks. Mrs. Smith is a frequent hostess and a favorite in her social circle and Mr. Smith is well known in business circles about the bay.

AT WEBBER LAKE.
Mrs. S. A. O'Neill and her daughter,

Miss Florence O'Neill, will close their Walsworth avenue home and go this evening to Webber Lake to enjoy a vacation of four weeks.

Mrs. O'Neill has a host of friends in Oakland who love her for her universal kindness and will be glad to know of her pleasant trip.

MUSICAL TREAT.
A recital of interest to local music lovers will be given tomorrow afternoon by the pupils of John Montgomery Messinger at the studio of Romeo Frick.

VISITS DAUGHTER.
Mrs. L. A. Ish of Goldfield is spending the summer in Oakland as the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Ralph Stocker, of Alhambra. Later in the season Mrs. Frank M. Tucker, of Salt Lake, is coming to share Mrs. Stocker's hospitality.

BERKELEY WEDDING.
The wedding of Miss Ruth Ogren and Calvin O. Esterly will take place very soon, but as yet the date has not been announced. Miss Ogren is the daughter of Mrs. A. B. Ogren of Regent street and has many friends in Oakland and Berkeley.

THE VERANDA BREAKFAST.
Sometimes, in addition to the main breakfast, a separate and smaller veranda, usually at the rear of the house, to be used as a breakfast room. At first a veranda breakfast has today become almost a necessity, and from early spring until late autumn the man of business as well as the man of leisure takes the first meal of the day out of doors, surrounded by nature at her best, his lungs permeated with fresh, health-giving air.

The second story veranda is likewise a feature of many houses of today, and frequently it is used as an outdoor sleeping room. Those for whom ill health necessitates sleeping out of doors, as well as others who do it for the love of it, find the upstairs veranda an incomparable blessing, and the use for this purpose is becoming even more popular. It should be screened in with wire during the summer season to keep out the mosquitoes and connected with the interior apartments by means of a screen door while in the winter it may be enclosed by a more substantial screening on the weather side to keep out the biting blasts.

After the veranda has been satisfactorily built, the next consideration is the equipment. An outdoor living room of the dimensions stated is sufficiently large to afford room for one or two good sized tables for books and flowers, numerous chairs, a swinging seat, a hammock or two and a tea wagon. All of these furnishings should be carefully chosen, and the windows are shaded by tasteful curtains, but also with a view to their lasting qualities when exposed to the weather.

Porch Parlor Furniture.
The best kind of furniture to employ in the fitting up of the porch parlor is that constructed from willow, rattan or rustic hickory. In pretentious verandas the Mission type of furniture is frequently used, and this is very good when finished with waterproof stain. Tables and chairs of wicker material are also popular, and the above named materials and special patterns have been evolved for veranda use. As for the rugs, these best suited to the ordinary porch parlor floor are the Moqui rug, English braided rug or Japanese straw rug.

In regard to the coverings for the cushions with which the chairs, swinging seat and hammocks are fitted, the most durable material is a natural colored linen, which also possesses the advantage of allowing frequent laundering. Madras cloth is also a good material for this purpose, and can be used in conjunction with the linen to vary the monotony without causing any discordant tones.

If the veranda is uncommonly spacious, as are many that grace fine houses along the north shore of Massachusetts Bay, one end is frequently inclosed to secure a sun porch. It is furnished independently of the main part of the veranda, generally in some pretty color scheme, and the windows are shaded by tasteful hangings, with vases of flowers placed in every available spot. Usually a heating system is installed to render the porch useable in late autumn or stormy days, and thus provide a comfortable nook even in inclement weather. From "Vogue."

Foreigner, Misunderstanding Quarantine, Society Women Are Raising Vegetables for the Market

Because He Could Not See His Children

SCRANTON, Pa., July 1.—This is the story of Frank Marcheck, foreigner.

He killed himself on the steps of the Home for the Friendless because he loved his children.

It was not so many years ago that Marcheck, living in Poland, grew ambitious and, after talking it over with his young wife, resolved to come to America. So he hoarded his savings and his wife made sacrifices and by and by they had enough money to pay their passage across the Atlantic.

In the coal regions of Pennsylvania are many of his countrymen. Work was not hard to find there and wages were good; compared with the pay in Poland, his pay was very high. Marcheck and his wife settled in the vicinity of Long-ton.

Had Ambitious Plans
One child came, another, and still a third. The father was working steadily, his wife was a careful, thrifty woman, and the little family of five was happy.

"Some day soon," he would tell them, "we will save more money and we can go into business. The children can help, and we will no doubt own a house."

They planned, Marcheck and his wife; they talked of how the children would be educated and they saw in the future much joy.

It was a few months ago that the Polish wife fell ill. She grew worse and finally she died. The young husband was left with his three little ones. He could not care for them, and unlike many of the men of his surroundings he did not look around for another woman.

Couldn't See Children

In Scranton there is an institution known as the Home for the Friendless. Marcheck heard of it, and breaking up his little home, he placed the children in the home under the care of kindly people, but a people of another race, who spoke another tongue.

And, as will happen, when there are children housed together, slight infection broke out. One of the man's children was stricken with the measles and the home was quarantined.

This afternoon Marcheck, bent on a visit to his babies, went up the steps of the Home for the Friendless and knocked at the door. In his broken English he told what he wanted. The attendant tried to tell him that the place was under quarantine, but that he could not understand; all he knew was that he was barred from his children. Perhaps he imagined that he was to be permanently deprived of them. Perhaps he thought of his wife.

At any rate, Frank Marcheck, foreigner, turned away from the door, dejected. He went down one, two, three, four steps. Then he stopped, pulled a revolver from his coat pocket and, without hesitation, placed the muzzle against his forehead and pulled the trigger. So he died.

The little Marcheck children are in the Home for the Friendless. What is to become of them no one knows just now.

"Transerette" Is the LATEST FAD

NEW YORK, July 2.—Now it is the "transerette gown."

In a short time, it is averred by the leading tailors of this city, this latest innovation will be a common thing to see along Fifth avenue. But it promises to create a considerable stir at the first.

"The transerette" differs from the "pantaloons" in that it has no train and is in every way suitable for street wear; is, indeed, fashioned especially for that. That the "transerette" talks of by Samuel Paul at the convention of tailors held at Boston can possibly rival it is laughed at by all the prominent New York tailors.

The gown when the wearer is in motion has all the appearance of an ordinary walking skirt, except that from the knees down it is divided, like a pair of trousers. This does away with the necessity of long petticoats, makes walking easier and freer, and is much cooler than the ladyship of fashion has exhibited thus far.

Another innovation which the tailors have up their sleeves is the "aeroplane" gown. This looks to the unsophisticated masculine eye like a bathing suit with both ends amplified, but the tailors say it is not so.

"That," they say, "is an altogether proper gown for all outdoor occasions."

Here the unsophisticated male perfectly agrees.

"It is for use on less conventional occasions than ones when the transerettes would be employed. Both these will hold absolute sway with the women of sense until well on in the fall."

Waist Lines Lower On the Latest Gowns

LONDON, July 1.—Ascot week always sets the final seal of approval on the prevailing fashions for the rest of the season. Those models in the ascendant at this year's Ascot proved that the director and princess gowns are still the most popular, although the waist lines are slightly lower.

Exquisite lace and rich embroideries in gold and silver are lavishly used. Hats are still large. A much-trimmed one at Ascot boasted fifty-two roses, while on another sixteen ostrich feathers towered.

Shoes and stockings matched the gowns, the stockings sometimes being embroidered with small diamonds around the ankles. This effect was observed rather frequently at Ascot dinners.

Sunshades used at the meeting were provided with abnormally long sticks, with grotesque handles, patterned after birds' and animals' heads with jeweled eyes. Fans were largely composed of artificial flowers, made with such fidelity as to defy detection. The flowers were correctly permeated and tied with harmonizing shades of ribbon. Altogether, Ascot collected more more elaborate and more expensive than ever. Lady Granard attended the races daily with the royal party.

Is a Friend of Marjorie Gould

MISS DOROTHY RANDOLPH.

Miss Dorothy Randolph, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip S. Randolph of Philadelphia, is a close friend of Miss Marjorie Gould, and well known in New York and Newport.

Miss Randolph was a bridesmaid of Miss Frances Drexel Fell, whose marriage to A. J. Antelo Devereux took place on June 23, at "Camp Hill Hall," Fort Washington.

Women Organize Life-Saving Bureau to Rescue Babies From Grim Reaper

PHILADELPHIA, July 1.—In a concerted effort to save the lives of thousands of infants who die like flies every summer, the women of Philadelphia, rich and poor, have united in a far-reaching crusade.

Under the name of the Alliance for the Care of Babies, the Mothers' Congress, consisting of leading society and club women, has inaugurated the movement and procured the co-operation of the Department of Health and the Board of Education. Medical science and the nursing profession have been drawn into the crusade, and, with the aid of 150 physicians and nearly as many trained nurses, the alliance hopes to reduce infant mortality and educate mothers in the proper care of their babies.

Baby Seances Eight Weeks

Beginning in time to check the spread of summer diseases among infants, the Alliance will carry its instructions through the hot months, and for eight successive weeks mothers will be invited to attend baby seances to be held every Wednesday at 4 o'clock in the following school buildings:

William E. Kelley, Twenty-eighth street and Columbia avenue; Edward Gratz school, Twenty-third and Jefferson streets; Lincoln school, Twentieth street and Fairmount avenue; Belmont school, Forty-first and Brown streets, Minn E. Kendrick school, Thirty-eighth street and Powell avenue; Morton McMillan school, Thirty-fifth street and Fairmount avenue; William McKinley school, Susquehanna avenue and Lawrence street, and the William F. Miller school, Howard and Diamond streets.

It is likely that next Wednesday several other buildings in the crowded sections will be opened for the mothers who have already shown anxiety to attend the lectures and profit by them.

Under the chairmanship of Mrs. Frederic Schoff, president of the Mothers' Congress, the city has been divided according to wards, with a club woman in charge of each district responsible for procuring speakers, nurses and an attendance of mothers at the clinics in all the schools in her section.

Physicians and Nurses

At personal inconvenience and sacrifice 150 leading physicians have volunteered to address the women. Nurses in various hospitals and charitable organizations will help with the work and carry their instructions into the homes.

The mothers, have been interested by means of posters, circular letters and personal invitations extended by the club women. Twenty Polish women with their babies responded to the call of Mrs. Paul L. McConomy in the Fifteenth ward, and at the Lincoln school on Wednesday listened eagerly to Dr. Joseph Crane, who told them how to prepare baby's food.

Mrs. McConomy, who is the wife of a downtown pharmacist, like many other women interested in the crusade, has given up her summer trip to the seashore to help in the rescue work of babies. She said, in describing the need for the crusade:

"I frequently see six months' old babies of foreign mothers brought up on bread and coffee. Then these women wonder why their babies die. Not long ago a woman brought an infant into my husband's pharmacy. The child was barely out of long clothes, yet it was completely sucking a cucumber. If it is alive today its survival is a miracle. We want to impress on these women the correct methods of feeding, proportions of prepared food, simple laws of hygiene, and various precautions to prevent spread of diseases and all the small but essential things that an educated mother should know to make her baby comfortable and healthy."

This year established a record in London for fairs. During the season at least three large ones were held every week.

Society Women Are Raising Vegetables for the Market

WASHINGTON, July 1.—Mrs. Payne Whitney has gone into an asparagus raising on the estate near Thomasville, Ga., of Colonel Oliver Payne, her husband's uncle. The Whitneys pass several months there each year for the benefit of their eldest daughter, Joan Hay Whitney, who is frail.

Mrs. Whitney saw an opportunity for profit in asparagus, and now has three acres laid out with it. She intends to extend the plot until it covers ten acres, and then will ship to the New York market. This summer she is making shipments to Washington.

Mrs. Whitney also cultivates roses and sells them in the capital.

Asparagus raising also has become a hobby of Mrs. George Vanderbilt, who personally supervises work on six acres at Blithero, the Vanderbilt estate in North Carolina.

Mrs. Tillman, wife of the peppery senator, has sold asparagus from five acres this season. She sent a large shipment as a gift to the White House, and Mrs. Taft wrote a note of thanks, saying asparagus was her husband's favorite dish.

Builds Church For Daughter's Wedding

CLEVELAND, Ohio, July 1.—Miss Edna Virginia King, daughter of Charles G. King Jr., this city, is to be married Monday to Morton A. Howard of Tonkners, N. Y., in a church built expressly for the ceremony. The church has just been completed. Two days after the wedding it will be razed.

The King residence, topping the high bank which overlooks the boulevard and Cuyahoga lake, in Wade Park, is surrounded by extensive lawns and is shaded by giant maple trees. On the lawn the church has been constructed.

It is built of oak stained to an antique effect, and is forty-eight feet in depth and twenty-four feet in width. The style of its architecture is Gothic. The beams and rafters of the roof are exposed in the interior.

In front an arched doorway leads to the altar erected at the end of the chancel. Behind the altar a cathedral window has been constructed. Arch windows have been framed in the side walls. The Rev. Euclid B. Rogers, pastor of the Central Baptist church, Springfield, Ill., a relative of the bride, will perform the ceremony.

I Think on Thee

I think on thee in the night,
When all beside is still,
And the moon comes out, with her
pale, sad light,
To sit on the lonely hill;
When the stars are all like dreams,
And the breezes all like sighs,
And there comes a voice from the far-off streams
Like thy spirit's low replies.

I think on thee by day,
Mid the cold and busy crowd,
When the laughter of the young and gay
Is far too glad and loud.
I hear thy soft, sad one,
And they young, sweet smile I see;
My heart—my heart were all alone,
But for its dreams of thee!

Of thee who wert so dear,—
And yet I do not weep,
For thine eyes were staid by many a tear
Before they went to sleep;
And, if I haunt the past,
Yet may I not repine
That thou hast won thy rest, at last,
And all the grief is mine.

I think upon thy gain,
Whate'er to me it cost,
And fancy dwells with less of pain
On all that I have lost,—
Hope, like the cuckoo's oft-told tale,
Alas, it wears her wing!
And love that, like the nightingale,
Sings only in the spring.

Thou art my spirit's all,
Just as thou wert in youth,
Still from thy grave no shadows fall
Upon thy lonely truth;
A taper yet above thy tomb,
Since lost its sweeter rays,
And what is memory, through the gloom,
Was hope, in brighter days.

I am pining for the home
Where sorrow sinks to sleep,
Where the weary and the weeping
come,
And they cease to toll and weep,
Why walk about with smiles,
That each should be a tear.
Vain as the summer's glowing spots
Flung o'er an early bier!

Oh, like those fairy things,
Those insects of the East,
That have their beauty in their wings,
That shroud it with at rest;
That fold their colors of the sky
When eastward they alight,
And flash their splendors on the eye
Only to take their flight;

I never knew how dear thou wert,
Till thou wert gone away;
I have it yet about my heart,
The beauty of that day!
As if the robe thou wert to wear,
Beyond the stars, were given
That I might learn to know it there,
And seek thee out, a heaven!

—Thomas Kibble Harvey.

SPRECKELS PAYS BACK DIVIDENDS

Check For $60,125 Saves
Oceanic Steamship Co. From Receivership

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2.—By the payment yesterday of $60,125, John D. Spreckels saved the Oceanic Steamship Company from a receivership, under the terms of the deed of trust securing its bonds, amounting to $2,405,000, and which bear 5 per cent interest.

The large sum paid by Spreckels yesterday is the long delayed semi-annual interest which has been due since January 1, 1908, but the Spreckels officials were legally able to delay payment by getting a majority of the holders of the bonds to sign a waiver of default. On the first of the year he paid the $80,125 coupon that fell due on July 1, 1908. He defaulted, however, with the coupon of $60,125 due January 1, 1909, and yesterday made a default on the July 1, 1909, coupon, amounting to $60,125.

The Oceanic therefore owes a year's interest on its bonds, amounting to $120,250. It has an equity period of six months in which to pay the coupon falling due yesterday, the one which fell due January 1, 1909, is not being paid, as the majority of bondholders have signed a waiver of default for a year.

The company owes John D. Spreckels and his associates $2,000,000 overdraft. This, he has just united by some fortunate chance the company is rehabilitated.

The contest for Goddess of Liberty held at Melrose for the Independence Day celebration closed yesterday with Miss Esther Bryant of Melrose chosen for the honor. After a month's hard work by all contestants, Miss Bryant's votes numbered 203. Following are the votes cast for the other young ladies of Brooklyn Township:

Miss Ethel Morray ..... 108 votes
Miss Grace Comfort ..... 98 votes
Miss Mullaney ..... 52 votes
Miss Claire Du Bois ..... 37 votes

Miss Bryant is one of the most popular young ladies of Alameda county and is one of the John C. Fremont High School graduates, besides being a very beautiful girl. Her many friends will be delighted to hear she has won the contest.

BILLBOARDS CAN NOT BE BARRED

City Attorney Reports Adversely to Council on Proposed Ordinance

City Attorney Stetson reported to the public improvement committee of the city council last night that in his opinion the city council had no authority to pass an ordinance prohibiting the erection of billboards within 300 feet of any public park.

The park commissioners had such an ordinance under consideration, but in view of the ruling of the city attorney will not seek to have it passed.

POLICE INVESTIGATING TWO SMALL BURGLARIES

Two small burglaries were reported to the police last night. Jack Borg, who owns at the Juniper hotel, stated that his room was entered and a grip stolen. He estimates his loss at $15.

A. Gullis, 1840 Seventh street, reports that some one entered his room while he was asleep last night and stole $5 in coin and a watch valued at $15.

OPENING OF JEFFERSON STREET IS RECOMMENDED

The street committee of the City Council last night recommended that Jefferson street be opened from its present terminus at Seventeenth street, north to San Pablo avenue and an improvement will make a thoroughfare out of Jefferson street. At the present time it has only one outlet, to the south.

NEW MANAGEMENT FOR FAIRMONT

Opening of Palace Hotel Will Entail Many Changes in Famous Hostelry

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2.—The Fairmont Hotel is to be run under new management, beginning tomorrow morning, and within a short time a number of the employees will be transferred from that hostelry to the Palace Hotel as soon as it reopens.

Charles Alden Cooke, for many years manager of the Raymond & Whitecomb Company, has been appointed assistant manager of the Fairmont, and as O. Rich, the present manager, is to turn his attention to the Palace Hotel when it reopens late in the fall, practically the entire management of the Fairmont will rest upon Mr. Cooke, who will then be promoted to the position of manager.

Chief Clerk Julian M. Brown of the Fairmont will assume the position of assistant manager of the Palace in the fall, and F. K. McDonald will succeed Brownell as chief clerk of the Fairmont.

J. C. Kirkpatrick will continue as general manager of the Palace Hotel Company, owners of the Palace and Fairmont hotels.

Mr. Cooke, the new assistant manager of the Fairmont, is a Boston man, although he has been identified with interests on the Pacific Coast for some time. He and his wife and daughter are now living at the Fairmont.

THEFT OF MOTOR CYCLE REPORTED TO POLICE

Charles Buttar of 707 Telegraph avenue reports to the police that someone yesterday stole his "Indian" motorcycle, valued at $125.

12. The Study of Noses

Seldom, very seldom, will one pair of lenses fit the eyes of two persons.
Almost as infrequently will one mounting fit two noses.

We study noses. We carry hundreds of different style mountings. Rarely, indeed, is the nose that in this store cannot be comfortably and tastily fitted with eyeglasses.
